Do you know a caring, diligent volunteer in the Frederick County community who tirelessly improves the human condition by sharing heartily of their own special talents and energy, giving generously and unselfishly of their time and ability? A remarkable person who has decided to find a need and fill it, making a profound difference in the lives of others by volunteering through sweat equity rather than financial capital?

If you do, now is the time to nominate that extraordinary person as a 2007 Wertheimer Fellow for Excellence in Volunteerism through The Community Foundation of Frederick County. Each year, the Community Foundation honors three outstanding volunteers as a Wertheimer Fellow. These exceptional citizens will be featured in the September issue of Frederick Magazine and honored at the Community Foundation's Annual Report to the Community in November.

Through the generosity of The Janis Miller Wertheimer Endowment Fund, each Wertheimer Fellow is awarded $10,000 to establish or add to a permanent fund at the Community Foundation for the charitable endeavor of his or her choice, continuing a legacy of meaningful impact for good, forever, for Frederick County.
